National Dissemination on Experiences of and Learnings from “Action Against Malnutrition”

We (the AAM Consortium) would like to invite you to the National Dissemination of the “Action Against Malnutrition” (AAM) project, an initiative supported by Tata Trusts.

AAM is a collaborative project for addressing malnutrition in some of the remotest pockets of the country, using multiple community based strategies that have been tried, tested and validated through experience over many decades. AAM was conceived as a model to demonstrate the feasibility and effectiveness of community mobilization and specific community-based management of malnutrition through day care services to children under three years. This project is being collaboratively implemented by Public Health Resource Society, Ekjut, Child In Need Institute, Chaupal, and Institute of Development Education and Action in seven blocks spread across the states of Bihar, Chhattisgarh, Jharkhand and Odisha. A brochure that gives a brief overview of the project is attached.

The National Dissemination is planned with the objective to share the strategies, experiences and learnings from AAM.

The dissemination will aim to bring together policymakers, civil society organizations, practitioners and academics from the field of public health and nutrition. We hope it will be another opportunity to discuss priorities in caring for children and combating child malnutrition so that we might contribute collectively to the country’s policies and programs.

We would value your presence, experience and feedback at this morning meeting, which will consist of brief presentations and testimonies followed by a discussion and lunch. The dissemination will be held on 12th of September 2017 at Gulmohar Hall, India Habitat Centre, New Delhi. We will be sending you a detailed programme shortly. We request your esteemed participation, and a line of confirmation by 15th August, 2017 would be appreciated.

Sincerely,
Ganapathy
On behalf of AAM Consortium

Venue: Gulmohar Hall,
India Habitat Centre, New Delhi
