Job Description

organizations with the perspective of strengthening technical an management capacities to take action towards the common goal 'Health for All'. Its main objective is to contribute and strengthen a efforts directed towards the goal of 'Health for All' through promotion public health, social justice and human rights related to the provision ard distribution of health services, especially for those who are generally le underserved. PHRN is currently working in the states of the states. Chhattisgarh, Jharkhand and Odisha and has contributed to the on-goir work of strengthening public health systems in other states through it partnerships with other institutions.  Whereas PHRN is a voluntary network of many hundred concerned public health practitioners who are willing to intervene towards 'Health' for All' by creating capacities and engaging with the public health system Public Health Resource Society (PHRS) is the core group that has initiate the network. PHRS is a national level organization that is registered belin under Societies Registration Act 1860 (Act XXI). It comprises of small group of members and full timers that provides leadership to the network as well as functions as its secretariat. For more details visit: www.phrsindia.org  About the project  About the project  The project entitled "Gender Nutrition: Equal access to sufficient an healthy food strengthens the food security of women and young childre will be implemented in Ambikapur district of Chhattisgarh. The proje will contribute to minimizing hunger, acute malnutrition and increase self-reliance in food and nutrition among marginalized communitie especially women and children in the north Chhattisgarh, India Specific objectives are:  - To increase gender equality and decision making in fair for distribution by women and girls in the 100 villages  - To ensure food and nutritional security and dietary diversity for children, adolescent girls and women  - To improve quality and access to public services on gener women and child health and nutrition	Position	MIS officer (Full time)
No. of Position  No. of Position  O1  About the Organisation  Public Health Resource Network is a growing network of individuals are organizations with the perspective of strengthening technical are management capacities to take action towards the common goal of 'Health for All'. Its main objective is to contribute and strengthen a efforts directed towards the goal of 'Health for All' through promotion public health, social justice and human rights related to the provision and distribution of health services, especially for those who are generally le underserved. PHRN is currently working in the states of the states.  Chhattisgarh, Jharkhand and Odisha and has contributed to the on-goin work of strengthening public health systems in other states through it partnerships with other institutions.  Whereas PHRN is a voluntary network of many hundred concerne public health practitioners who are willing to intervene towards 'Health for All' by creating capacities and engaging with the public health system Public Health Resource Society (PHRS) is the core group that has initiate the network. PHRS is a national level organization that is registered belief under Societies Registration Act 1860 (Act XXI). It comprises of small group of members and full timers that provides leadership to the network as well as functions as its secretariat.  For more details visit: www.phrsindia.org  The project entitled "Gender Nutrition: Equal access to sufficient an healthy food strengthens the food security of women and young childre will be implemented in Ambikapur district of Chhattisgarh. The proje will contribute to minimizing hunger, acute malnutrition and increase self-reliance in food and nutrition among marginalized communitie especially women and children in the north Chhattisgarh, India Specific objectives are:  - To increase gender equality and decision making in fair for distribution by women and grilly and decision making in fair for distribution by women and grilly and access to public services on gener women and child he	Project	Gender Nutrition: Equal access to sufficient and healthy food
No. of Position   O1		strengthens the food security of women and young children.
Public Health Resource Network is a growing network of individuals are organisation organizations with the perspective of strengthening technical are management capacities to take action towards the common goal 'Health for All'. Its main objective is to contribute and strengthen a efforts directed towards the goal of 'Health for All' through promotion public health, social justice and human rights related to the provision and distribution of health services, especially for those who are generally le underserved. PHRN is currently working in the states of the states Chhattisgarh, Jharkhand and Odisha and has contributed to the on-goir work of strengthening public health systems in other states through it partnerships with other institutions.  Whereas PHRN is a voluntary network of many hundred concerned public health practitioners who are willing to intervene towards 'Health' for All' by creating capacities and engaging with the public health system Public Health Resource Society (PHRS) is the core group that has initiate the network. PHRS is a national level organization that is registered in Delhi under Societies Registration Act 1860 (Act XXI). It comprises of small group of members and full timers that provides leadership to the network as well as functions as its secretariat.  For more details visit: www.phrsindia.org  About the project  The project entitled "Gender Nutrition: Equal access to sufficient and healthy food strengthens the food security of women and young childred will be implemented in Ambikapur district of Chhattisgarh. The proje will contribute to minimizing hunger, acute malnutrition and increase self-reliance in food and nutrition among marginalized communitie especially women and children in the north Chhattisgarh, India Specific objectives are:  To increase gender equality and decision making in fair for distribution by women and girls in the 100 villages  To ensure food and nutritional security and dietary diversity for children, adolescent girls and women  To improve quality and acce	Location	Ambikapur, Chhattisgarh
organizations with the perspective of strengthening technical an management capacities to take action towards the common goal 'Health for All'. Its main objective is to contribute and strengthen a efforts directed towards the goal of 'Health for All' through promotion public health, social justice and human rights related to the provision ard distribution of health services, especially for those who are generally le underserved. PHRN is currently working in the states of the states. Chhattisgarh, Jharkhand and Odisha and has contributed to the on-goir work of strengthening public health systems in other states through in partnerships with other institutions.  Whereas PHRN is a voluntary network of many hundred concerned public health practitioners who are willing to intervene towards 'Health' for All' by creating capacities and engaging with the public health system Public Health Resource Society (PHRS) is the core group that has initiated the network. PHRS is a national level organization that is registered to Delhi under Societies Registration Act 1860 (Act XXI). It comprises of small group of members and full timers that provides leadership to the network as well as functions as its secretariat.  For more details visit: www.phrsindia.org  About the project  About the project  The project entitled "Gender Nutrition: Equal access to sufficient an healthy food strengthens the food security of women and young childred will be implemented in Ambikapur district of Chhattisgarh. The project will contribute to minimizing hunger, acute malnutrition and increase self-reliance in food and nutrition: Equal access to sufficient an healthy food strengthens the food security of women and to children, in the north Chhattisgarh, India Specific objectives are:  To increase gender equality and decision making in fair food distribution by women and girls in the 100 villages  To ensure food and nutritional security and dietary diversity for children, adolescent girls and women  To improve quality and access to public services on	No. of Position	01
public health, social justice and human rights related to the provision ard distribution of health services, especially for those who are generally le underserved. PHRN is currently working in the states of the states of Chhattisgarh, Jharkhand and Odisha and has contributed to the on-goin work of strengthening public health systems in other states through in partnerships with other institutions.  Whereas PHRN is a voluntary network of many hundred concerned public health practitioners who are willing to intervene towards 'Health' for All' by creating capacities and engaging with the public health system Public Health Resource Society (PHRS) is the core group that has initiated the network. PHRS is a national level organization that is registered.  Delhi under Societies Registration Act 1860 (Act XXI). It comprises of small group of members and full timers that provides leadership to the network as well as functions as its secretariat.  For more details visit: www.phrsindia.org  About the project  The project entitled "Gender Nutrition: Equal access to sufficient and healthy food strengthens the food security of women and young childred will be implemented in Ambikapur district of Chhattisgarh. The proje will contribute to minimizing hunger, acute malnutrition and increase self-reliance in food and nutrition among marginalized communitie especially women and children in the north Chhattisgarh, India Specific objectives are:  To increase gender equality and decision making in fair food distribution by women and girls in the 100 villages  To ensure food and nutritional security and dietary diversity for children, adolescent girls and women  To improve quality and access to public services on gener women and child health and nutrition.  Promote model of nutrition and health care in community setting for addressing malnutrition and gender rights.  Job Description  Overall, the person would be responsible for providing support to programmes related to creches. The MIS person will report to the Project Coordinator.		Public Health Resource Network is a growing network of individuals and organizations with the perspective of strengthening technical and management capacities to take action towards the common goal of 'Health for All'. Its main objective is to contribute and strengthen all efforts directed towards the goal of 'Health for All' through promotion of public health practitioners who are willing to intervene towards 'Healt for All' by creating capacities and engaging with the public health syster Public Health Resource Society (PHRS) is the core group that has initiate the network. PHRS is a national level organization that is registered in Delhi under Societies Registration Act 1860 (Act XXI). It comprises of small group of members and full timers that provides leadership to the network as well as functions as its secretariat.  For more details visit: www.phrsindia.org  The project entitled "Gender Nutrition: Equal access to sufficient and healthy food strengthens the food security of women and young children will be implemented in Ambikapur district of Chhattisgarh. The project will contribute to minimizing hunger, acute malnutrition and increase self-reliance in food and nutrition among marginalized communities especially women and children in the north Chhattisgarh, India Specific objectives are:  To increase gender equality and decision making in fair food distribution by women and girls in the 100 villages  To ensure food and nutritional security and dietary diversity for children, adolescent girls and women  To improve quality and access to public services on gener women and child health and nutrition.  Promote model of nutrition and health care in community setting for addressing malnutrition and gender rights.  Job Description  Overall, the person would be responsible for providing support to programmes related to creches. The MIS person will report to the Project Coordinator.		public health, social justice and human rights related to the provision and distribution of health services, especially for those who are generally left underserved. PHRN is currently working in the states of the states of Chhattisgarh, Jharkhand and Odisha and has contributed to the on-going work of strengthening public health systems in other states through its partnerships with other institutions.
About the project  The project entitled "Gender Nutrition: Equal access to sufficient and healthy food strengthens the food security of women and young childred will be implemented in Ambikapur district of Chhattisgarh. The project will contribute to minimizing hunger, acute malnutrition and increased self-reliance in food and nutrition among marginalized communitied especially women and children in the north Chhattisgarh, India Specific objectives are:  To increase gender equality and decision making in fair food distribution by women and girls in the 100 villages  To ensure food and nutritional security and dietary diversity for children, adolescent girls and women  To improve quality and access to public services on gener women and child health and nutrition.  Promote model of nutrition and health care in community setting for addressing malnutrition and gender rights.  Job Description  Overall, the person would be responsible for providing support to programmes related to creches. The MIS person will report to the Project Coordinator.		public health practitioners who are willing to intervene towards 'Health for All' by creating capacities and engaging with the public health system, Public Health Resource Society (PHRS) is the core group that has initiated the network. PHRS is a national level organization that is registered in Delhi under Societies Registration Act 1860 (Act XXI). It comprises of a small group of members and full timers that provides leadership to the network as well as functions as its secretariat.
- Promote model of nutrition and health care in community setting for addressing malnutrition and gender rights.  Job Description  Overall, the person would be responsible for providing support to programmes related to creches. The MIS person will report to the Project Coordinator.	About the project	<ul> <li>Specific objectives are:         <ul> <li>To increase gender equality and decision making in fair food distribution by women and girls in the 100 villages</li> <li>To ensure food and nutritional security and dietary diversity for children, adolescent girls and women</li> <li>To improve quality and access to public services on general</li> </ul> </li> </ul>
Project Coordinator.	Job Description	- Promote model of nutrition and health care in community setting for addressing malnutrition and gender rights.
Roles and responsibilities are as follows:		programmes related to creches. The MIS person will report to the

Job Description

	- Developing MIS for the project and managing data on a regular basis
	- Data Cleaning
	<ul> <li>Frequent field visit to intervention site</li> </ul>
	- Quality Check of the data collection at the field level
	- Providing handholding support to block and district teams with regards to MIS activities
	- Data analysis, develop reports and presentation
	- Support in documentation <ul> <li>Providing required support to national office for advance level</li> </ul> data analysis
	- Provide supportive supervision at the field level
	- Generation of internal reports
	- Capacity building of the field teams
	- Any other task assigned by the Project Coordinator and the Executive Director.
Report to	Project Coordinator
Qualifications,	- Master's degree from a recognized institution desired skills and	- Minimum 2 years' experience in data handling in the field of requirements	health and/or nutrition
	- Must have advanced data analysis ability using any of the data analysis applications
	- Excellent verbal and written communication in English and Hindi.
	- Ability to travel to project areas Thomas to traver to project areas
Remuneration	- Rs. 3,60,000 per annum
Duration	- Till September 2026
Harris a service	Total and dead did at most and that we will be a 100 and 100
How to apply	Interested candidate must send their resume along with a cover letter to delhi@phrnindia.org with subject line- Application for the post of Last date of	MIS Officer- Ambikapur Chhattisgarh
	25 th May 2025 application	l Abuse (SEA) are unacceptable behaviors and prohibited conduct for all including PHRS employees and related personnel. PHRS has a policy of zero All candidates will mandatorily undergo a reference check that includes questions about SEA.
questions about SEA.		